LA CROSSE TO BID FOR CONVENTION

Democrats of Western Part of State to Back This City's Claim on Honor

WOLFE ATTENDS CONFERENCE

State Central Committee Meets to Elect Alternates to the National Convention

Basing its claim on the strong showing made by the progressive democrats in the western part of the state in the recent primary election, La Crosse will be a contender for the honor of entertaining the state democratic convention which probably will be called at the meeting of the democratic state central committee in Milwaukee today. The meeting of the state central committee was called primarily to elect alternate delegates to the National Democratic convention in Baltimore in June, but the question of a state convention for the purpose of drawing a state platform will undoubtedly be taken up at the meeting today or tomorrow.

The meeting of the state central committee is being attended by prominent democrats from all parts of the state including all of the delegates-at-large. W. F. Wolfe, who delivered a speech at the Jefferson Day banquet in St. Paul last evening, left for Milwaukee at 11 o'clock last night arriving in time to take part in the conference today.

Wolfe May Present Claim

It is probable that Mr. Wolfe will present La Crosse's claims to the convention. Mr. Wolfe was in charge of the Wilson campaign headquarters three weeks before the primary election and his able management of the affairs of the progressive democrats in the state put him in the position of one of the most influential leaders in the state. Should he undertake to get the convention for La Crosse it is more than an even chance that he would be successful.

La Crosse is in a good position to entertain a convention and owing to the fact that Milwaukee has had the big meeting for several years, politicians in the western part of the state are advancing the argument that fair play demands that some western city should be given a chance.

Interviewed today, A. C. Wolfe, chairman of the La Crosse county democratic committee, admitted that La Crosse would probably put in a bid for the convention should one be decided upon by the state central committee.

La Crosse Strong Bidder

"No formal demand will be presented to the committee," said Mr. Wolfe, "but the sentiment of the democrats in this section of the state will undoubtedly be put before the members. If it is seen that sufficient backing to procure the convention is obtainable, efforts will be made to hold the convention in the western part of the state this year. If this is decided, La Crosse, of course, will be the principal bidder for the convention. This has been quietly talked over by several of the leaders of this district and the sentiment seems to prevail that La Crosse should be able to land the honor. If a convention is called it will be held next fall."

Wolfe Launches Boom

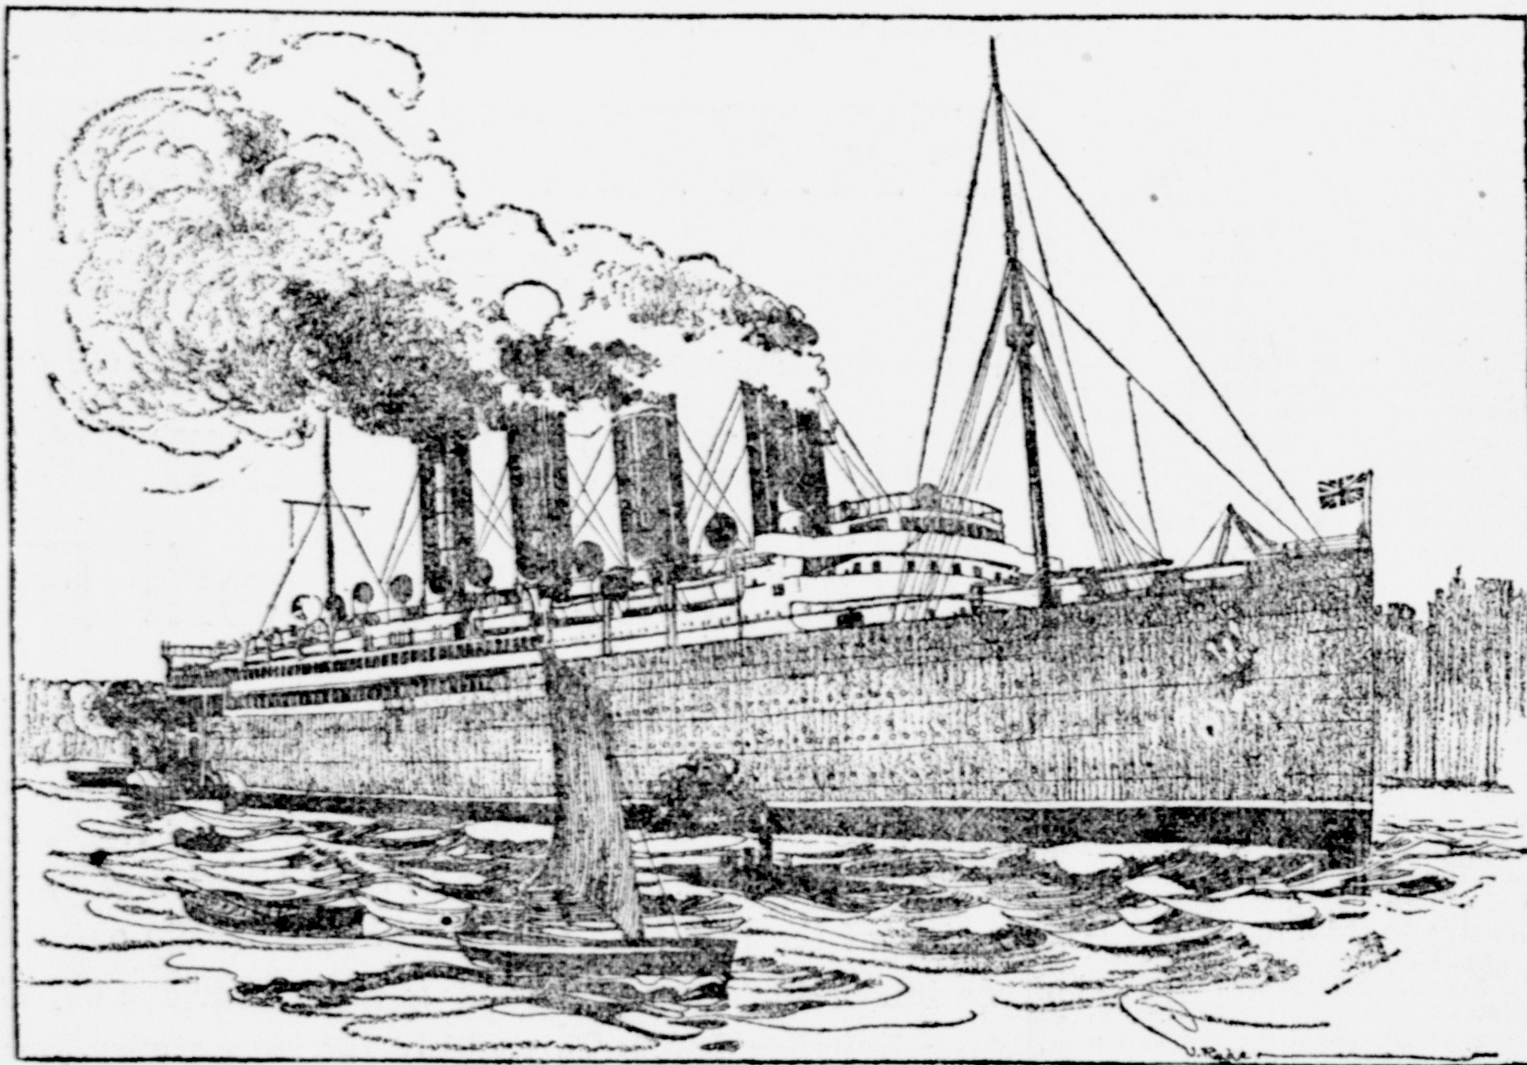

Woodrow Wilson's presidential boom in Minnesota was launched by W. F. Wolfe's speech at the Jefferson Day banquet in St. Paul last night. Many of the leading democrats of the northwest were at the banquet and the Wilson boom came in the nature of a surprise. Although Governor John Burke of North Dakota and Hamilton Lewis of Chicago were starred as the principal speakers of the evening, the Wilson fireworks were touched off by Mr. Wolfe. With Governor Burke an acknowledged candidate for the presidency there was a hush of astonishment among those who had not been let in on the program when Mr. Wolfe unmasked the character of the meeting. The seeming blunder was banished when Mr. Wolfe explained that his action met with the approval of Messrs. O'Brien and Lynch and several other democratic leaders of Minnesota. The waters were smoothed a little more by Governor Burke who intimated approval of the Wilson candidacy and said that he would stand in the way of no democrat for the presidency.

The following extract from Mr. Wolfe's speech is taken from the Minneapolis Tribune:

"Study the history of the republican party in connection with the

BOYS ELIGIBLE TO CORN CONTEST

Onalaska School of Agriculture Will Award Prizes to Farmers' Children

Professor Frank E. Balmer of the La Crosse County School of Agriculture, Onalaska, today announced plans for the 1912 corn contest to which all boys between the ages of ten and eighteen, residing in La Crosse county, are eligible.

B. F. Oltman, county superintendent of schools has sent letters to all of the teachers in this county requesting that they explain the rules of the contest to their pupils and take action to create interest in the new branch of educational farming.

In his letter Mr. Oltman lays stress on the advantages to be derived through scientific methods of farming and the development of love for farm life and ambition, which will follow methods of this kind. Lack of good seed corn this year, is anticipated to produce a strong contrast between the products of the men using select corn and those employing seed selected in a haphazard fashion, which it is hoped will have a bearing upon impressing the farmer with the necessity of taking every advantage offered through agricultural schools.

Prizes to be Awarded
The seed for the contest will be furnished by the County Agricultural school and the rules provide that all of the work shall be done by the contestants. The awarding of prizes which will amount to $100 will probably be made following the exhibition which will be held at West Salem during the first week in January.

The rules of the contest are as follows:
1. Any boy resident of the county, not under ten years of age nor over eighteen years of age, June 1, 1912, may enter the contest.
2. The La Crosse County School of Agriculture will furnish three quarts of high grade Wisconsin No. 7 corn, a sufficient amount to plant about one-half acre.
3. Each contestant will select his plot of ground, plant his crop and do his own work—except a very young member may have heavy plowing done in preparing the soil.
4. As soon as each contestant enrolls he will receive instructions as to getting the seed corn. Each contestant will be expected to study in the culture and care of his corn:
1. Selecting plot for the corn, preparing the seed bed and planting.
2. Cultivation of the corn, and the control of weeds.
3. Selecting seed and harvesting the corn.
4. Selecting the best ten ears for the contest and an outline for a written account telling the history of growing the crop.
5. Prizes will be awarded on the following basis: Two-thirds of the

WISCONSIN MEN LOST IN WRECK

Three Men from Badger State Drown, but Their Women Relatives Are Saved

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—In grim conformity with the brief wireless reports that it was "women and children first" from the ill-fated Titanic came today advices that could hardly be disbelieved; that of the eight Wisconsin victims of the disaster three men and five women, the former perished while the latter are safe aboard the Carpathia.

No mention is made in the list of rescued of Captain E. G. Crosby, head of the Crosby Transportation company, Milwaukee; Dr. W. E. Minahan, Fond du Lac; and W. B. Silvey, Superior, all known passengers of the Titanic. Reports today, however, assured that Mrs. Crosby and daughter Harriet; Mrs. Minahan, her sister-in-law, Miss Daisy Minahan, Green Bay; and Mrs. Silvey, are safe.

DELAWARE DELEGATES FREE

DOVER, Del., April 16.—The republican state convention today elected six uninstructed delegates to the Chicago convention. Taft sentiment predominated. The delegates elected were Republican State Chairman Mitchell, United States Senators Dupont and Richardson, Dr. George W. Marshall, Ruby Vall and Governor Penniwell.

NO MORE TARIFF BILLS

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The democrats of the ways and means committee discussed informally today the tariff revision program and reached the tentative agreement not to report further tariff bills, unless the senate acts on measures which have already passed the house.

TO OUTLINE REPORT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—By direction given today by the Stanley steel investigation committee, Chairman Stanley will submit to the committee next week an outline of what he has to suggest as a report of the investigation.

CLARK STAYS ON JOB

LINCOLN, Neb., April 16.—Speaker Champ Clark has wired his inability to come to Nebraska and take to the stump during the presidential primary campaign, saying he must stick on the job at Washington.

PLANS COMPLETED

Specifications and plans of the water and sewer improvements to be made this year have been placed on file in the office of the board of public works.

HOUSE SYMPATHETIC

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The house today unanimously adopted a resolution of sympathy for the relatives of the victims of the Titanic disaster.

KUEHN TO PLAY WITH LA CROSSE

Bond Expects to Sign Fast Outfielder Who Was Formerly with the Outcasts

It is practically certain that Bunny Kuehn, the fleet footed outfielder, who formerly played on the local team, will again be a member of the Outcasts this season, for Manager Carl Bond announced today that he had almost completed arrangements whereby Bunny will again wear a La Crosse uniform. Kuehn is well known to the fans in the Minny league circuit and his acquisition by the local management is an indication that a great outer gardener has been added to the list of candidates who will try out this spring.

In E. H. Johnson of Black River Falls, Manager Bond is confident that he has secured a pitcher who will prove a sensation in the league. This twirler is five feet, eleven inches in height and weighs 180 pounds. He comes to the local club well recommended and Bond is certain that he secured a great slab artist in this man.

Seventeen men have been signed for a tryout by Manager Bond and this large squad will be given every chance to make good. Out of this array of playing talent Bond expects to pick a team which will be capable of giving every club in the circuit a hard fight for the pennant. Within a short time the training season will begin and local fans may rest assured that La Crosse will be represented by a great baseball team this season as all the men who have been signed are promising players and a great battle for places on the team will ensue.

Over $2,000 has already been secured towards the baseball fund for the team this year but about $1,000 more is needed before the required $3,000 will be raised. This amount is absolutely necessary and Manager Bond is making every effort to get this sum. About $400 worth of score card advertising has been taken by local business men.

Catcher Lizzette of the Superior club has been signed to act as manager of the Rochester team this year according to information received here today. It is expected that he will immediately begin to sign up players for the team.

DISCUSS LIABILITY LAW

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Formal consideration of the employers' liability and workmen's compensation bill was begun in the senate today. A mass of telegrams for and against the measure were presented. A futile attempt was made to fix April 25 for a vote.

TAFT SENDS AID

WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Taft this afternoon directed several revenue cutters to proceed immediately to the Carpathia and render such assistance as possible. The cutters will also advise him of all details concerning the sinking of the Titanic

GOTHAM HALTED BY NEWS OF BIG SHIP'S DISASTER

Offices of White Star Line Are Besieged by Mob Anxious to Learn if Relatives Died

INFORMATION IS KEPT BACK

Officials of Steamship Line Hold Back What Details They Have from the Public

JOHN JACOB ASTOR GOES

Son of Noted Social Light Leaves Ship Offices Weeping After Conference with Agents

NEW YORK, April 16.—Utterly stunned by the weight of the terrible disaster that followed the loss of the giant liner Titanic on her maiden voyage, New York halted today. It was hard to realize that the latest creation of marine architecture, the great steamship which only yesterday, when news that she had been in a collision was received, was proudly branded by her owners as "unsinkable," now lay below the waters of the Atlantic off the banks of Newfoundland and had carried with her much of the flower of American and British manhood.

Storm Offices
Not since the ill-fated French liner Bourguigne was rammed and sent to the bottom with all of her company by the great iron freighter, Cromartyshire on July 2, 1898, have such scenes been witnessed as were enacted at the office of the White Star line on Lower Broadway throughout the night and today. Men, women and children, many hysterical and weeping, stormed the offices and vainly begged for some word of comfort regarding the fate of their loved ones.

News Withheld
Few got any satisfaction. For the great majority all that the company could say was that there had been loss of life, but they were hoping for the best. To relatives of noted passengers a private audience was granted and it was quietly whispered that the outlook was most serious. But even they did not get all the facts which the company had in its possession. For some inexplicable reason the White Star line has steadily refrained from making public facts in its possession and apparently it was able to muzzle the wireless, as messages sent direct to New York, were held up while not a single word was permitted to penetrate from the fog-bound banks of Newfoundland where the worst tragedy of recent years was being enacted.

Charges were freely made by relatives of the missing that the company not alone withheld news of the disaster, but that it was responsible for messages of comfort received yesterday saying all of the passengers had been rescued and the disabled liner was being towed to port. But the officials refused explanation. They admitted they had known for some hours before they made public announcement that the Titanic had foundered, but they defended their action by saying that until Captain Haddock of the Olympic confirmed the reports they had not felt justified in alarming the people of the nation.

Astor Leaves Weeping
Among the first to reach the offices of the line was Vincent Astor, only son of Colonel John Jacob Astor. He was worried but hopeful when he arrived and was admitted to the private offices of Vice President Franklin. He was accompanied by A. J. Biddle and the representative of the Astor estate. Half an hour later the young man emerged weeping bitterly, and was assisted into his automobile and taken home.

Sylvester Byrnes, private secretary of Isidor Straus, another victim, remained at the offices of the line all night, hoping against hope that Straus might have been saved. He went home at 8:30 saying that there was no doubt that his employer and all of the other noted men on board had perished.

Officers Stupefied
The officers of the line were seemingly stupefied by the news. Only once did Vice President Franklin flash and flare up, and that was when he was told that it was reported and generally credited that the company had withheld its news of the disaster and muzzled the wireless so that reinsurance might be secured. He said: "That is an absolute

WOMEN AND CHILDREN SAVED WHILE MEN GO DOWN WITH VESSEL

UNDERWRITERS MAY GO BROKE PAYING POLICIES

Losses Through Titanic Disaster Are Staggering to Risk Men Who Must Pay

INSURANCE ONLY $3,700,000

White Star Line Unable to Write Policies for Full Value of Newest and Biggest Boat

Large Shipments of Jewelry and Personal Baggage Were Completely Covered by Insurance

LONDON, April 16.—Whether the underwriters that carried policies on the ill-fated Titanic will be able to meet their obligations will not be known for several days. The losses are staggering, the greatest in the history of the marine insurance. Just how large they are cannot be definitely stated for some time, but in addition to vessel, cargo and contents of her strong box there was a big registered mail shipment and two men passengers in the first cabins, carried with them many thousands of dollars worth of fine jewelry. All this is now more than two miles below the surface of the ocean.

Only $3,700,000
All of the insurance that the White Star people could have written on this steamer was $3,700,000 and they carried some $750,000 of themselves. They had tried to write policies for $5,000,000, but the continental and British markets could not carry that amount.

There was a large consignment of diamonds on board, variously estimated at from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000 which is a total loss and is covered by insurance. There was also a large quantity of bonds and the numbers and value of those are known and they eventually can be replaced. The underwriters will also have to pay enormous sums on personal baggage. One woman on board carried an insurance policy of $600,000 on a collection of pearls, and nearly every society woman there had her jewels that she was carrying insured.

The actual value of the Titanic was indisputed today. The company said that at the time she was launched that, when she went into commission, she would represent $12,000,000. Other men said this was too great a figure, but it seemed certain today that vessel and furnishings must have represented $9,000,000.

ALL HOPE GONE FOR SAVING MEN LEFT ON LINER

866 Are on Way to New York on Carpathia; the Rest Are Given Up as Dead

MANY FAMOUS MEN ARE LOST

John Jacob Astor, Archie Butt, Benjamin Guggenheim and Others in the List

Believed that Stories of the Survivors Will Eclipse Anything Told in Fiction

NEW YORK, April 16.—The New York News Bureau says that a wireless dispatch received from Cape Race this afternoon, after being relayed from the scene of the wreck of the Titanic, says that "all except 1,237 of the persons on board the Titanic have been accounted for." This, if true, would indicate that 155 additional have been rescued. The report is not confirmed from any other source.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Hope for the safety of passengers of the ill-fated Titanic, which floundered early Monday morning off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, other than those reported by wireless from the Carpathia as enroute to this city, was practically abandoned this afternoon. Latest reports placed only 866 persons, and they chiefly women and children, on the Carpathia, while even the officials of the White Star line admitted there was practically no hope for the remaining 1,492 of the ship's company of 2,358 souls.

That all would have had a chance of safety had there been lifeboats and rafts enough, was the general belief of navigators. But the liner, newest and greatest of trans-Atlantic ships, carried only 20 large, modern lifeboats, and they were loaded to the gunwales with women and children, who in accordance with the unwritten law of the sea, had been put over the side first.

Famous Men Lost

Most of the men were missing. Colonel John Jacob Astor, Major Archie Butt, President Taft's aide, Benjamin Guggenheim, Jacques Futrelle, William T. Stead, F. D. Millet, Henry B. Harris—all of them well known personages who had taken passage on the gala day of the Titanic's departure from her home port, were not included in the list of those reported saved. The inference was that they had remained on the ship and gone to the bottom with her, a sacrifice to the custom which fails to compel enough lifeboats and rafts on ocean steamers to take off every one on board.

Up until noon there had been a faint, glimmering hope that in addition to the Carpathia other vessels that had rushed to the scene on receipt of the wireless appeal for aid had been in time to make rescues. Rumors had the Allan liner Virginian taking off some. But this hope faded when Captain Gamble wired his agents that he had reached the scene too late.

Vice President Franklin of the White Star, stunned by the magnitude of the disaster, said soon after noon, that the Carpathia would reach this city with the survivors late Thursday or early on Friday. He said that he believed that the Olympic was standing by the scenes of the wreck, combing the sea while acting as a wireless relay station to Cape Race.

One Scant Hope

One scant hope clung to by the owners came from the deduction that the steamer had drifted some thirty-four miles between the time she struck and the time she sunk. There was a chance that some of the lifeboats or rafts that were lowered first might have drifted away and not been reached by the Carpathia. Although admittedly only a straw, it

Varieties of Honey.
A sore throat and a rasping cough led the writer to call in at the stores with a view to the purchase of honey. Lemon and honey are extremely soothing, and the overplus of the latter can be used on the breakfast table. The assistant said they had plenty of honey, got it fresh every day. "What honey is it?" asked the man with a sore throat huskily. "Twenty-one cents a pound," replied the salesman, and it came out that he had no notion that there were varieties of honey. His idea was that all honey was English, and he had never heard of Irish honey, let alone that of superb quality that the Connemara bees produce, or of the heather honey or that from the West Indies. Grocers and purchasers should be educated in the various excellences of honey.—London Chronicle.

Passengers Were Below

CAPE RACE, April 16.—Unparalleled in history, the scenes that accompanied the foundering of the Titanic on the ice-strewn banks of Newfoundland were marked by intense suffering and rare heroism according to the few disjointed and fragmentary messages that have been picked up by the wireless operators along the coast.

It was a night of black error. Sunday had been cloudy and foggy, but the great liner had been steadily held on her course. Precautions were taken to guard against accident, but it seemed certain today that it was necessary to keep considerable headway on the giant vessel so that she would remain manageable.

The smash came at 10:25 Sunday night. Many of the passengers were

A Simple, Safe Remedy

Cases

The most effective and harmless way to cure catarrh or a cold in the head is to apply a little Ely's Cream Balm. This pleasant, harmless, antiseptic, cleansing Balm quickly heals the sore membranes and restores the sense of taste and smell. It will surely relieve even the worst case of catarrh.

Get a 50 cent bottle from your druggist, use it according to directions, and cold in the head, catarrh, catarrhal headache, head noises and sneezing will all go. More than this, the Balm will strengthen the sensitive membranes, so that you can resist and throw off colds.

Quick relief from catarrhal misery awaits you at any drug store. A 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm is generally more than sufficient for even a chronic case of catarrh or hay fever. It is perfectly harmless.

undoubtedly in their beds at the time, but all must have been routed out immediately, as Captain Smith was too experienced a navigator to overlook any precaution or to fail to recognize that the force of the collision had inflicted a mortal wound despite the confident assertions he had made many times that the Titanic was unsinkable.

It was a black night, the thick muggy atmosphere so peculiar to the banks and the darkness redoubled the horrors of the occasion. The ship's company, assembled on the great decks of the floating hotel which was so soon to become the grave of many of their number, could have had little time to make their toilet. Many of the passengers must have been garbed as they came from slumber, carrying only the wraps hastily caught up in the moments that followed the horrible, grinding of steel upon ice.

Signals were burned, rockets sent up, as the wireless snapped out its frantic appeal for help, while the stalwart seamen, told off by their commander to man the lifeboats, began the work of getting the big boats over side and filled with their precious human freight.

It appeared today that there was no need for the order "Women and children first," but that the men stood aside and pushed their women folk to the boat decks, where the lifeboats were being filled as quickly as possible. Wives and sisters in tears, with the last kisses of husbands and brothers on their lips, were marshalled to their places, while the wounded giant staggered and sunk lower with every lurch of the sea.

It must have been apparent from the outset that there was little hope for many of that company. Although she carried the maximum of life rafts and lifeboats, they were cruelly insufficient. The staggering of the wounded monster and the gradual sinking by the head must have indicated to all that the end was certain.

Passengers were buoyed up by the hope that assistance was coming as fast as ships that had picked up the urgent appeal for aid could be sent through the water. But the officers could have entertained no such delusions. They knew by the messages received that no vessel could reach them before daylight and with the water making in the holds faster than it could be checked by the pumps, they must have realized that only floating wreckage and the filled lifeboats and rafts would greet the rescuers.

So they carefully filled the boats, lowered them into the water and ordered them to row far enough away so that the whirlpool suction that would follow the final plunge of the Titanic would not swamp them. The 3,455 life belts were dealt out and the 48 life buoys placed where they could be used, but it was realized that in the final analysis these would be of no use and that those on board when the great plunge came were certain of death.

Women's Reason Goes

The waiting in the dark and cold may have cost the reason of many of the women. It was said today that the fact that the Carpathia, which was the first to the scene, started direct to New York as soon as she had taken the unfortunates from the lifeboats, indicated that many of the survivors were in a very bad way. She carried only one doctor and his best efforts were needed to save the reason of the women who realized that many of them were now alone in the world.

Herbert Straus, who called on Vice President Franklin to learn the latest regarding Isidor Straus' fate was given little encouragement.
"We have no news," said Franklin, "and we are forced to believe all the rescued are on the Carpathia. We are not even certain that the list of survivors we have received by wireless is wholly accurate."

The word that the Virginian had reported having failed to reach the scene in time has caused great dispondency to the White Star officials and they made no effort to conceal their apprehension.

Praises Men's Action

LONDON, April 16.—The unwritten law of the sea, "women and children first," was lauded on the floor of the house of commons today by Premier Asquith in a speech deploring the Titanic disaster.

"I must express the deepest admiration," he said, "for the carrying out of that best of sea traditions, the saving of those least able to save themselves."

CAN WE AFFORD ELECTRICITY

In a recent discussion Frank Winter, one of the attorneys who represented the city in its fight against the proposal of the La Crosse Gas and Electric company to increase its rates for lighting, suggested the advisability of a thorough investigation of the desirability of employing electricity for the operation of the proposed new water plant.

Mr. Winter set forth quite convincingly the ground upon which he based the idea that electricity should be made the motive power. He believes that from an economic standpoint the citizens will benefit. Electricity, says Mr. Winter, is so rapidly eliminating steam that we shall within a few years see it doing all the world's work. With the general upward tendency in the cost of coal, and the general downward tendency in the cost of electricity, he says one looking into the future will find little justification for the purchase at this time of machinery which should last for thirty years, and which commits the city to the use of coal for that period.

In addition to this there exists another argument favorable to the use of electric equipment. We cannot sidestep the fact that we have here a gas and electric company heavily over-capitalized. Our citizens must carry this burden, and the company needs additional revenue. It tried to get that revenue by increasing its rates, but the railroad commission refused to permit this, pointing out to the company that the legitimate way of increasing its income was by business expansion. Pursuant to this, and to some extent guided by its own experiences, no doubt, the company has announced the policy of expansion as its immediate program. It is to this expansion that citizens must look for lower rates, if there are to be lower rates. Therefore, if it is possible for the city to run its water plant as cheaply by electricity as by steam, would it not be the part of wisdom to aid the expansion of the electric field by giving the business to the local company?

The Tribune has always been convinced that this city should have a municipal lighting plant, but after five years of fighting we are further than ever from it, the voters having rejected the idea at a public referendum. We therefore conclude that, if it is a fact that electricity can be employed as cheaply and effectively as steam in the running of the water plant, it probably should be done, as Mr. Winter suggests, on the ground that it may prove one of an aggregation of electric loads which will eventually put the lighting business here on a more substantial basis and conduce lower rates. One thing, however, is certain. The council should not make a move toward the adoption of electricity as the motive power of the water plant until it has arranged for a contract at the lowest possible rate at which current can be bought.

MORE "LOCAL CONDITIONS"

Wonder if "local conditions" were responsible for the outcome in Pennsylvania?

That's what the Taft managers said about Illinois.

In Pennsylvania the Penrose machine has always been supreme. It was a perfect organization; it was working overtime; it was for Taft.

Roosevelt had no organization in Pennsylvania.

But Roosevelt got at least 55 out of the 64 district delegates, and he secured the state convention by a big majority, thus clinching the twelve delegates at large.

And, outside of all that, the result in Pennsylvania means that Penrose loses the state central committee, and that he and his lieutenants will not go to the national convention, and they lose the state's membership on the national republican committee, and the presidential electors. In fact, the tail went with the hide.

Looking into the future (within a year) Penrose has also lost the state legislature, and with it his job, for the coming legislature will elect his successor to the United States' senate. And no later than last Thursday Penrose was promising the Taft managers a "solid delegation from Pennsylvania."

"Local conditions?"

Same local conditions as exist in North Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin, California, Washington, Oregon, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Ohio and nine out of ten of all the states.

What does it mean?

Taft can't be elected!

With that point settled, will he go before the convention as a candidate? And if he does, will his party be so foolish as to nominate him?

ECONOMY IS AS ECONOMY DOES

Mr. Mahoney, who wants to reduce the health department to its former state of insufficiency, says he is actuated by a desire to economize. Mr. Mahoney is secretary of the special water committee that, in exploiting the well system has hired engineers to settle a simple engineering problem, as follows:

Engineer Malby . . . $4,000.00
Engineer Kirchoffer . . . 23.00
Engineer Alvord . . . 1,200.00
Engineer Williams . . . 500.00

Total $5,723.00

And what have we for the $5,723.00?

This is within $267 of the annual appropriation for the maintenance of the health department. Why not a little economy in other departments?

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The City

I'm dead in love with the city; its rumble, its jumble and roar, its atmosphere sooty and gritty makes living naught less than a chore.

The crowd ever pushing and jumping and elbowing after the pole. Where every last feller is humping for no one at all but himself. I don't want to live in the shadder of skyscrapers half a mile high. I don't know a place that is sadder than one where no sunshine is nigh.

There isn't a flower wuth the pick-in'.

There isn't no grass neath your feet.

There isn't no sort of a chicken save them which is ready to eat. It don't matter much where you ramble.

You won't hear a lone rooster crow. And it's purty safe to gamble you Won't hear a sound that you know: Just thumpin' and chuggin' and tootin'.

Of automobiles all the time. Just burnin' up benzine and scoot-in'.

Around in a way that's a crime.

There's nothin' but hurry and flurry and hustle and bustle and jam.

The best thing they do is to worry and hasten through life with a slam.

O, yes, I'm a rube, I confess it. The hayseed still clings to my hair.

It doesn't take long for me to guess it. It's written on me everywhere.

But I do not regard it a pity for rural surroundings to pine.

They're welcome to live in the city. I'll take the old homestead for mine. —Ex.

The Rules of Poker

A story this season (at least the advertising men are telling the story) of a battle of brains between the clever advertiser and the clever customer. It happened in a local shoe store and we are printing it just to beat some trade paper to it.

The local shoe store aforementioned has been conducting a bargain sale in men's shoes. In each pair of shoes in the show window there are three new $1 bills and the sign reads: "Three of a kind take one pair."

The $3 shoes have been going rapidly. Recently, however, a big young man entered the store and asked: "Do you sell these shoes according to poker rules, as advertised?"

"Yes, sir," answered the clerk, who had played a bit himself. "Good. I wear a No. 9. Wrap me up two pairs of them."

He received the shoes and handed over $3.

"Excuse me," said the clerk. "These shoes come to $6. You took two pair."

"That's all right," said the young man, "but three of a kind beat two pair."

"I know that," responded the clerk promptly, "but three of a kind don't beat four nines." The customer paid.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Is It Real Or A Nightmare?

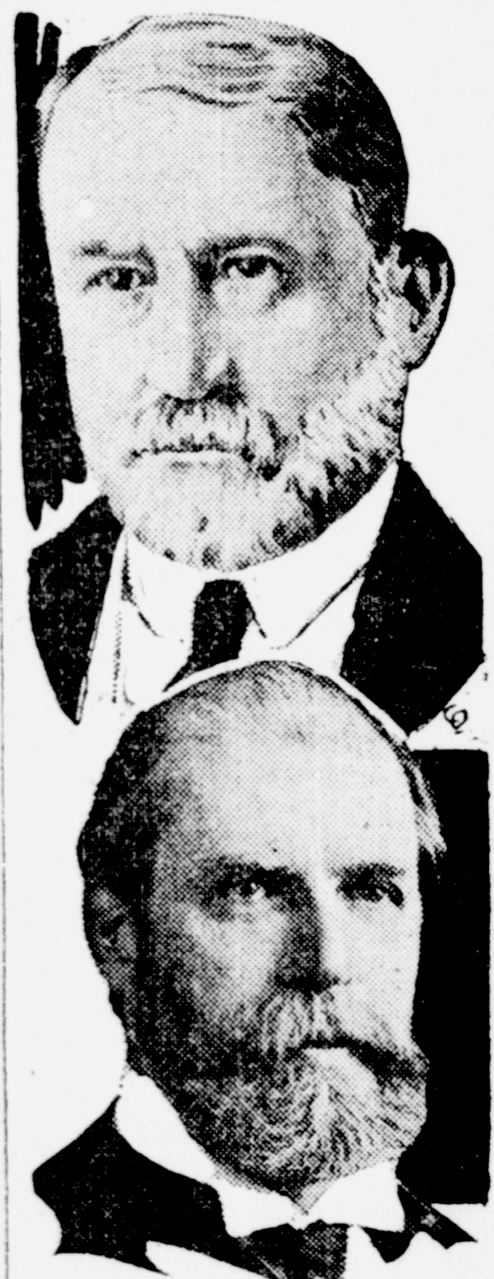

News Item: New York:

"The talk yesterday among Republican campaign managers in this state, both in the Taft and Roosevelt camps, was that this is a Democratic year and that neither President Taft nor Col. Roosevelt can be elected." "With this fact staring them in the face, the Republican managers are looking forward to the possibility of a compromise candidate at the eleventh hour."

Two New York men are being groomed in certain quarters as the logical "dark horses" of the presidential race. Justice Hughes might be a compromise candidate suitable to the Republican leaders favoring Taft, and unattractively opposed to Roosevelt. Whether he would be as satisfactory to the insurgent wing of the party as some other man can only be guessed at. He filled the governor's chair at Albany with dignity and won much praise over the country by the policies which he advocated. It is still doubtful whether or not he would consent to leave the Supreme Court to enter the race even if he were the selection of the Chicago convention. Mayor Gaynor as a Democratic compromise candidate, is receiving considerable support. Had the convention been held two years ago, he would have been infinitely stronger both in his own state and in the country at large.

Gen. Robert K. Evans for the major generalship left vacant by General Grant's death. There was a stranger in the room, but the senator did not pay any attention to him.

"I have come here," said Mr. Williams as soon as the handshaking was over, "to say a good word for one of the finest officers in the United States army and one of the best that Mississippi ever produced. He is Gen. Robert K. Evans, a splendid soldier, who ought to get Gen. Grant's place."

"What do you know about him personally?" Gen. Wood asked.

"Not a thing in the world," confessed the senator. "Never saw him in my life. But Senator Percy and I are being swamped with telegrams about him, and everybody in Mississippi seems to think he is the best man that could be selected, so we would like to have you promote him."

"Perhaps," said Gen. Wood, swinging around in his chair and waving his hand toward the third person in the room, "you might like to meet him. Gen. Evans, let me introduce Senator Williams."—Ex.

Out of the Mouths of Babes

"Whose little chap are you?" queried the physician of a bright youngster. "I see mamma's," was the reply. "Whose big guy are you?"

"What is Lent?" asked the Sunday school teacher of a small girl. "Lent is the time when ladies ask gentlemen to marry them," was the reply of the small miss, who was thinking of leap year.

Kathryn, aged 5, was vainly trying to thread a needle. "Mamma," she asked, "don't they call the hole in a needle an eye?" "Yes, dear," answered her mother. "Well," continued the little miss, "I bet this old needle is cross eyed."

Small Arthur complained of feeling badly, and his father said he might be taking the chickenpox, then prevalent in the neighborhood, but Arthur laughed at the idea. Next morning he came downstairs, looking very serious, and said: "You're right, papa; it's the chickenpox; I found a feather in the bed."—Chicago Daily News.

HOUSE AFRAID OF JOHN D.'S CHARITY

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Fear that the measure may contain some sort of a joker that will let John D. Rockefeller off without paying taxes on his vast fortune, was responsible for the indefinite postponement of the house this afternoon of the Peters bill incorporating a $20,000,000 "Rockefeller foundation."

Shepard (Dem., Texas) said he "feared that under the guise of philanthropy the corporation might compete in business of all kinds and be exempt from taxes."

The bill was stricken from the calendar.

Protest.

"The boys seem discouraged about makin' garden," said Mrs. Cornstossel. "Yep," replied her husband. "They turned up a few square feet of dirt an' then held a meetin' an' passed resolutions to the effect that it was a shame to spoil such a fine fish'n'-worm pasture by plantin' it full o' potatoes an' sweet corn."

The Yellow Letter

A FASCINATING MYSTERY STORY.

BY WILLIAM JOHNSTON

Copyright 1911—The Hobbs-Merrill Co.

It was almost the first time she had called me by my name, certainly the first that she ever had given herself to my embrace, and I held her closely, thrilled through at the thought that it was to me she turned in time of trouble. Then, all at once, I was aroused by the opening of the door through which Doctor Wilcox had gone and the appearance of a maid, who ran along the hall.

"What is it? What has happened?" I asked.

"Katharine," moaned Louise, "Katharine—she has killed herself."

For a moment I was stunned. The first thought that came to me was the impossibility of it. What place had tragedy in this happy, quiet home? Familiar enough, though I was, with deeds of violence, with self-murder as it thrust itself forward in the courts and in the lurid headlines of the newspapers, that such a thing could intrude on the peace of this well-ordered household seemed beyond my comprehension.

"I telephoned to you, but you were not in your office," sobbed Louise, still clinging to me in the abandonment of grief.

"When did you telephone?" I asked, even under such circumstances striving to learn that she had telephoned.

"Just after she did it—I don't know when it was—it seems ages ago. I couldn't get you and—I thought—you would never come—then—then—I telephoned for the doctor and father."

Just after she did it! I had been trying to make myself believe it must have been an accident, though from Louise's manner I feared the worst. Yet Katharine Farrish was the last person in the world of whom one would think in connection with suicide. A quiet, reserved girl of great strength of character, several years older than Louise, her dignity and her well-considered actions had led me to believe her far less emotional than her younger sister.

"It was an accident, of course," I said, though doubtfully.

"No!" gasped Louise, shuddering anew at the thought of the horror she had just witnessed. "I heard the shot and found her on the divan in her room. The revolver was still in her hand—her own revolver."

For the first time it came to me with sudden vivid force that in the elder sister's life, behind the smiling mask of reserve she always wore, was hidden some secret sorrow. I understood now, that faraway look in her eyes. I felt there may have been—there must have been—concealed the knowledge of some mystery that impelled her to this awful deed. Yet little did I suspect whither my efforts to find why Louise's sister had shot herself would lead me. Little did I imagine in what a web of criminal cunning, of baffling crime, of hidden evil, I would find myself.

As I strove to soothe Louise's agitation the doctor appeared at the doorway and imperiously beckoned me. I tried to persuade Louise to wait outside, but she clung to me like a frightened child and insisted on accompanying me into the room. "Here," said the doctor in the curt tones of authority, "I want you to help me carry her into a quiet place before I operate."

"This way," said Louise, recovering herself as soon as she saw the opportunity to be useful, "into my room. They are off the street and much quieter."

I saw the look with which she tried to read the doctor's face and put the question she dared not ask. "Will she live?"

Doctor Wilcox shook his head gravely.

"She is just alive and that is all. I can not tell yet whether or not

LUNGS MADE NEW

Why Stomachs Suffer When the Lungs are Ailing

Frequently in printed and oral discussions of Ozomulsion its readiness of digestion is spoken of. This is important because feeble digestion is one of the commonest conditions in Consumption.

Indeed, many patients ask a doctor's advice in the first place because their stomachs are out of order.

They are surprised to learn that their lungs are out of order, too.

Lungs and stomach are connected by the pneumogastric, like telephones on a party line.

Being easier of digestion, as well as richer in flesh-making material, than any other medicinal foods, Ozomulsion gives especially strong support to consumptives, who cannot afford to squander vital power, but need all they have of it in their battle with disease.

Sample Bottle Free by Mail

Those who are seeking health and strength for themselves, children, relatives or friends may experience the life-giving properties of this exclusive Norway gold medal ozonized cod liver oil medicinal food emulsion—as well as to know Ozomulsion superiority—in being most palatable and easy to take—a generous 2-oz. bottle will be sent by mail to those who send addresses by postcard or letter to Ozomulsion, 548 Pearl St., N. Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

we can save her. There must be absolute quiet. I am going to probe for the bullet and see what course it has taken. Please telephone at once for these two men. They are my hospital aides. As soon as they arrive I will operate."

As quickly as we had laid the senseless girl on Louise's bed, I telephoned for Doctor Wilcox's assistants, and was fortunate in being able to reach both immediately. Louise and the maids meanwhile were kept busy by the doctor preparing for the operation, so it fell to my lot to break the news to General Farrish when he arrived. Louise had merely told him over the telephone that Katharine had met with an accident, so he entered the house almost wholly unprepared for the shock my news gave him.

I had before seen strong men in grief, but never had I witnessed such a wave of heartrending agony as swept over the general. He came into his home erect, military, slightly perturbed, but still in manner and bearing the vigorous old soldier, fully master of his emotions. My words that told him as gently as was possible what had happened seemed to sap all his vitality. His face became ashen pale, his lips quivered, great tears coursed down his cheeks, his shoulders bent under the weight of his grief and he tottered as if about to fall.

While he was fond and proud of both his daughters, the elder had always been his favorite. As is often the case with fathers who have no son, Katharine had been both son and daughter to him. Since her mother's death some years ago she had been practically head of the household. It was on her that he relied for everything, and it was with her that he discussed all his business affairs. Such an association between them naturally had strengthened the bonds into far more than the ordinary father-and-daughter affection.

"My poor little girl—Katharine—my little Katharine," he moaned in tones of agony that wrung my heart for him.

His first thought was to go to her, but the doctor forbade his presence in the room. I persuaded him to go to his own apartments, leaving him in the hands of his valet and promising to keep him informed as to Katharine's condition. Deeply as I felt for him, it was of Louise I thought most. I wanted to be with her constantly, to give her the succor of my presence. As soon as Doctor Wilcox's assistants arrived, bringing with them a nurse, Louise and I were both banished from the room. Gently I drew her into a little sitting-room, where, with the door ajar, we waited to see if our aid might be needed. Tearless sorrow now weighed heavily on her.

"Tell me everything," I said, with my arm about her. "Why did she do it?"

"I don't now," she cried out. "I can't understand it at all! There is some mystery, some terrible mystery that I can not fathom." (To be Continued)

Discomfited Masher.

A gray-haired masher, easily over sixty years of age, was given a cold reception when he endeavored to become acquainted with the wife of a well-known newspaper man recently.

The day was cold and rainy. The newspaper man's wife was standing holding an open umbrella. She was waiting for her car. The gray-bearded individual unannounced stooped under her umbrella, and stood beside her for an instant before he remarked:

"You seem to be waiting for some one."

He was nearly taken off his feet when the woman with a quick reply said, "I think you are mistaken, Santa Claus."

The gray-bearded individual left suddenly.

URGES FARMERS TO RAISE FISH

Says Swamp Lands Could Thus Be Used to Get a Profit for Their Owners

FISH ARE EASILY RAISED

Superintendent of Philadelphia Aquarium Has New Views on Work Open to Farmers

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Declaring that the time is not far distant when farmers will consider the cultivation of fish as important a part of their calling as the raising of grain, potatoes or poultry, William E. Meehan, superintendent of the city aquarium, addressed the students of the Northeast manual training high school. Mr. Meehan said that farmers throughout this and other states are gradually realizing the advantage of cultivating fish and predicted that within a few years the occupation will become a highly productive one. He added that considerable profit can be made in raising fish and declared that the hundreds of small streams in this state opened the way for the adoption of a business which will soon take its place among the leading agricultural productions of the time.

He aroused much interest when he told of the mode of living of the various fishes known to residents of this state. He also gave in detail the different species of fish and the manner of incubation of the various types. In his address he said:

"For years the commonwealth has expended money freely to advance the agricultural, mining and several other interests, but has been very sparing with its money in the conservation of such natural resources as the fisheries, the forests and food and fur bearing animals. There has been an awakening, however, in the last few years in respect to these three. The agricultural interests are the backbone of the prosperity of the state, but a relationship can be established between them and the fisheries.

"Most of the streams, springs and swampy places in Pennsylvania could be utilized for the rearing of fish under intelligent care, and a useless piece of wet ground can be made to yield as much acre by acre as the most fertile strip of land. There are a number of fishes which could be utilized by the farmer if he has a sufficient volume of stream water. Among them is the brook trout. For warm water the German carp, catfish and yellow perch would be very valuable and yield a good return, both for the table and for the market. Warm water fish culture requires little ready money, but considerable care and labor. It is safe to say that with the proper application of intelligent methods a few acres of otherwise unproductive swampland can be made to net the owner more than a thousand dollars a year. This is especially true in respect to the carp. It is not a worthless fish, as has been said, but, on the other hand, a highly productive one. More than 40,000 pounds of it are sold in this city weekly.

Grow Faster in Warm Water
"The eggs of fishes are fertilized after they have been deposited. The period of incubation varies according to the species and the temperature of the water. In ordinary spring water the egg of a trout will hatch in from 45 to 50 days, but in cold creek water the period will be lengthened to 120 days and even longer. By frequent sorting and abundant food the trout will be ready for the market within two years. It only requires a few days for the eggs of the German carp to hatch and about two weeks for the yellow perch and catfish. Carp will be ready for the market in one year. It takes two years for the yellow perch and catfish to reach a similar size for the table. A yellow perch weighing a little more than a pound will yield from 60,000 to 70,000 eggs, while a five-pound carp will produce even more. A mature catfish will hatch from 3,000 to 6,000 young each year. The brook trout of three years possesses about 1,000 eggs, of which all but 10 per cent may be hatched and 50 per cent reared under cultivation until they reach the age of two years."

Sterilized Coal.

Coal in the mines is one of the things freest from germs. Old-time doctors used to notice coal miners' wounds healed fast, though begrimed and besmeared with coal dust. For a long time it has been thought that breathing in coal dust caused lung diseases in miners. Some experts find fresh coal is as good as sterilized, and say miners have lung trouble because they do not take the trouble to put off their damp and sweaty clothing before going from the mine to their homes, thus taking cold in the open air walk. Experts say our miners ought to put on warm and dry clothes at the mouth of the mine. But it seems the miners have minds of their own, and although the coal companies in some places fixed up hot and cold water baths and dressing rooms at the mouth of the mines the men would not use them, but went home to wash and dress, as had been their custom for generations.

Boat Built by C. E. Green Slips Into Black River for First Time

C. E. Green, 811 Rose street, yesterday launched the large new boat which was built during the winter in Black river and the boat is one of the largest and best in the city. The craft is fitted up with a powerful engine which is capable of driving the boat through the water at about fifteen miles an hour.

Work on the building of the boat was done during the winter and was completed last week. The boat is now completely fitted out for the season and travel will be begun as soon as weather conditions will permit.

The boat is probably the largest of its kind in the city and fitted out with the best equipment it makes an ideal pleasure craft. It is forty feet long and ten feet wide and will be capable of carrying a large number of passengers. Many trips are planned during the summer months and as the craft is perfectly seaworthy there is no doubt but that it will prove one of the most popular pleasure boats on the river.

No Occasion for Surprise. This story is told of Forrest, the great tragedian:

Forrest was playing in "Richard III." and the part of Catesby had to be taken by a low comedian, who sauntered on the stage at the wrong moment and uttered the famous words, "My lord, the duke of Buckingham is taken," in the wrong place.

Forrest clenched his fists in rage, but otherwise took no notice of the remark.

Later on the comedian repeated the words in the right place, and when the king expressed surprise at the news Catesby folded his arms, walked boldly down the stage, and remarked to the great actor in loud tones:

"I told you so before, Mr. Forrest, but you wouldn't believe me."

Fortune From Watercress.
Mrs. James is said to have amassed a fortune of $400,000 by selling watercress at Covent Garden market, London. Mrs. James has been selling watercress ever since she was five years old, beginning with two small basketfuls. "Hard work is the secret of success," Mrs. James declares. "I stand out in the open every morning from three o'clock till ten, and after that I have to look after the fresh cut watercress which arrives from my farm by every passenger train. Study your customers, never disappoint them, give them the best and you must succeed." Mrs. James has a handsome house in London, a house in the country, a watercress farm, and keeps a motor launch.

Rich Haul by Forgers.
The Bank of Naples (Southern Italy) has recently been the victim of fraud to the extent of $160,000, by means of genuine checks, the figures of which, however, had been cleverly altered and augmented with the aid of chemicals and a perforating machine. The trickster, of whom there is no trace, had checks cashed simultaneously at the branch offices in Turin, Florence and Rome.

EVERY MOVE CREATES SOUND
Scientific Fact Not Known to All—Acuteness of Hearing Among the Lower Animals.

It is very difficult to make some persons believe that nothing can move without making a sound, although it may seem to be absolute silence to them. Everything that moves disturbs the air around it and sets up a kind of wave motion that spreads through the atmosphere in all directions. When these wave motions are strong enough a sound is heard. That nothing is heard is no evidence that there is no sound, for other living things may hear what men cannot.

The motion that is started in the air when anything vibrates or moves suddenly has often been compared to the motion of the surface of still water when we drop a pebble into a pond. But there is this great difference. The eye can see the wave made by the smallest glass bead you can find, but the ear is not nearly so sensitive, and unless the waves are pretty high in the atmosphere the human ear cannot detect them as sound.

The lower animals and birds have much better ears than human beings. A dog will prick up its ears at the sound of its master's voice, or a faint whistle, when it is an astonishing distance off. A man in Baltimore put his head out of the window and called his dog Jack, which he thought was chasing cats in the grounds of the blind asylum opposite.

The dog was sitting on the steps of a friend's house with the man's daughter, nearly half a mile away, and instantly jumped up and tore off home. It had heard that call.

A deer has been known to look up at the sound of a footstep that was still half a mile away in the woods.

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions

(From the Dermatologist.)

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appearing in spring, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercorized wax spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfigured skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any drug-gist's. There's no more effective way of banishing freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness are best treated by a simple solution of powdered salolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.

ATTENTION, COMRADES!

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Saves Worry, Saves Money, Saves the Hair

If you want to free your head of dandruff and stop falling hair, you must sooner or later resort to Newbro's Herpicide.

By using Herpicide first you save yourself worry, which is desirable, you save money, which is a consideration, and you save your hair, which is the most important of all.

Why not profit by the experience of Mrs. S. A. Lee of 110 South 4th St., Richmond, Va., who writes:

"Four years' residence in India ruined my hair until it was but two inches long and very thin. I tried everything in Europe and America with a benefit until I was induced to use Herpicide. My hair is now long, soft and silky and natural color, while before it was quite gray. My friends never tire of admiring my hair."

Mrs. Lee's story is a typical history of hair troubles. After everything else fails, Newbro's Herpicide brings relief. It would be just as effective if used first.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and prevents falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. No matter what the claims of others, Herpicide is the only genuine original dandruff germ destroyer.

One dollar size bottles guaranteed. Sold by all druggists. Applications at good barber shops.

Amazon River.

It has been stated in official consular reports that the aggregate navigable waters of the Amazon and tributaries for all sorts of craft is estimated to exceed 45,000 miles. The average depth is from 40 to 150 feet and the average width from 6 to 40 miles.

At the mouth near Para the river is 138 miles wide, including the island of Marajo and the northern and southern outlets. The immense volume of water discharged marks a path of yellow water in the blue of the Atlantic easily distinguishable for 150 miles at sea, creating a fresh water sea while out of sight of land. This yellow or old gold colored water uniting with the equatorial current trends to the north at the rate of six miles an hour, and entering the Caribbean sea forms what is recognized as the Gulf stream.

A Permanent Cure For Chronic Constipation

Although these may dispute it who have not tried it, yet thousands of others, who speak from personal experience, assert that there is a permanent cure for chronic constipation. Some testify that they were cured as little as fifty cents, years ago, and that the trouble never came back on them, while others admit they took several bottles before a steady cure was brought about.

The remedy referred to is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been on the market for over a quarter of a century and has been popularized on its merits, by one person telling another. The fact that its strongest supporters are women and elderly people—the ones most persistently constipated—makes it certain that the claims regarding it as a permanent cure for constipation have not been exaggerated.

It is not violent like cathartic pills, calts or waters, but operates gently, without griping and without shock to the system. It contains tonic properties that strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with and nature is again solely relied on. Among the legions who testify to these facts are Mr. Herbert Timm, 404 Idaho St., Oshkosh, Wis., and Caroline Maynard, Chaffin, Minn., and they always have a bottle of it in the house, for it is a reliable laxative for all the family from infancy to old age.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Under the influence of a tariff which La Follette endorsed we have the giant lumbering industry interests of Wisconsin with all their impositions. DELEGATES MEET TO CHOOSE ELECTORS

MADISON, Wis., April 16.—Presidential delegates met in Governor McGovern's office this afternoon to choose presidential electors. Before the meeting it was apparent that no slate of electors has been made out and that the work done would be done in the meeting.

Indications were that Governor McGovern would preside and that William Mauthe of Fond du Lac would act as secretary.

Henry Ellenback of Wausau was mentioned as the probable elector from the eighth district and Charles Leicha of New Lisbon sergeant-at-arms of the senate as the elector from the seventh district.

Woman Finally Recovers From Nervous Breakdown

Impoverished nerves destroy many people before their time. Often before a sufferer realizes what the trouble is, he is on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. It is of the utmost importance to keep your nervous system in good condition, as the nerves are the source of all bodily power. Mrs. Anna Kounz, 211 Mechanic St., Pueblo, Colo., says:

"For many years I suffered from nervous prostration; I was unable to do any house work and doctors failed to help me. Remedies I tried from druggists did not do me a particle of good. A neighbor told my husband about Dr. Miles' Nervine and he procured a bottle. After the first few doses I showed a marked improvement and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I have been perfectly well for years and cannot praise Dr. Miles' Nervine too highly."

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep, if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but that is no reason why you should delay treatment.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial, no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you. Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

was clung to by those having relatives whose names were not included in the list of the survivors, which was sent to this city.

That most of the women and children were in the boats picked up by the Carpathia was believed by marine experts here to indicate positively that the iron discipline of the merchant marine was maintained to the last, Captain Smith of course, his friends say, went down with his ship.

Elapses Fiction

That the stories of the half-frenzied survivors who elapse anything in fiction was certain from the brief and disjointed information that was available here from the wireless sources. The collision occurred in the deepest darkness and after many of the passengers had retired for the night.

The crashing of steel upon solid ice must have struck the ears of the merry ship's company and forecasted the horrors that were soon to come. There must have been the rush to the decks, with the few wraps hastily picked up in the mad flight, only to get the word immediately that the ship was wounded to death and that there was no chance of being saved.

In the midst of an ice field, tossing and tumbling in the strong swell that never is absent from the Grand Banks, and with the bitter piercing atmosphere cutting tender flesh to the bone, men and women faced the end.

There must have been farewells. Loved ones parted. Hands were embraced their wives and babies for the last time, and then the stalwart seamen began the work of putting the great boats—their number cruelly few—over the side.

Ice Heavy

The ice fields must have been very heavy. Other vessels, just into port, both here and on the other side, describe the fields as almost solid and it is certain that the greatest care must have been taken in launching the boats, so that they were not overturned.

Whether or not the unfortunate women and children in the boats witnessed the last final plunge of the wounded leviathan as she staggered to the bottom carrying with her their nearest and dearest, few not be known until they tell their stories here. It is likely that they did, however, as the lights of the great floating hotel probably remained unextinguished until the final plunge.

The women and children, it seems certain, suffered greatly, while the frail boats in which they had taken refuge tossed like corks on the surface of the water. It was long after daylight when the Carpathia finally arrived, only to find the score of heavily laden boats and the floating wreckage.

CURIOSITY RESULTS IN JENSEN'S ARREST

Derating himself for possessing a sense of curiosity bordering on the feminine, Charles Jensen was taken back to the insane asylum at West Salem this morning. Jensen who was formerly a resident of La Crosse, made his escape from the county institution last night, walked to Grand Crossing and boarded a Burlington train southward bound. Before the train started however, a desire to "see things," as Jensen expressed it today, proved too strong and led to his walking into the arms of Patrolman Wolf, who was standing upon the station platform. Jensen was taken to central police station and later taken to West Salem by Sheriff Burns.

NO CHANCE TO SETTLE STRIKE

NEW YORK, April 16.—President Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, announced this afternoon, although the conference between the coal operators and miners' sub-committee were resumed here this afternoon, there was no chance of an agreement being reached. The feeling among the committeemen and operators today was optimistic regarding a settlement in the near future.

When Child Is Restless.

The principal cause of restlessness and sleeplessness in children is indigestion, usually brought on by unsuitable food, overfeeding or irregular meal hours.

If a child cries a great deal, is restless and loses sleep, look to the food and the time at which it is given.

Another cause of sleeplessness which is frequently overlooked is too much light in the room. It is natural to sleep in the dark, and it is particularly desirable that children should do so, for they are very sensitive to all impressions.

The tender eyes and brain need the complete rest and relaxation that darkness permits. In spring and summer, when the sun rises at five o'clock or earlier, children will waken unless the room is kept darkened.

A green blind is best for this purpose, and it is advisable to use it in the child's bedroom if nowhere else.

Most Stupid of All Feathered Creatures, Though Its Eggs Are Pronounced Good.

Doublets the term "booby," signifying a stupid creature, has been misapplied in some cases, but it correctly describes several varieties of birds of the gannet species common to certain islands of the Caribbean sea.

The booby is a small water fowl, and in spring and summer millions of its kind flock to seven little islands some thirty-five miles southeast of Jamaica. The booby bird is so called because of its stupidity, since it has absolutely no fear of man. The islands frequented by these birds are leased to private individuals who derive a large income from the collection and sale of booby eggs. Nearly 60,000 dozen booby eggs were taken from the seven little islands to Jamaica last year, where they were sold at the rate of about $3.25 for a case containing 500.

An American consular officer familiar with the subject states that while booby eggs are only about two-thirds as large as hen's eggs they are but little inferior in quality. There might be a market in this country for the booby product.

Stimson then re-entered the cabinet room and Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson was summoned to the White house by telephone to discuss the Mexican situation. He was immediately ushered into the presence of the cabinet, which is an unusual proceeding. Major General Wood evaded the newspapermen, declining to make any statement.

Venetian Palace Where Wagner Died.

Apocryph of the return from her chateau in Styria of the Duchesse della Grazia to her palace in Venice, a Paris contemporary gives an interesting account of Vendramin, which is not only one of the most beautiful residences on the canal, but it is closely associated with the history of the city of the dogs.

It was built in 1441. German princes occupied it at first. Then it passed into the possession of the duke of Mantua, who purchased it for 50,000 ducats of gold. It was the scene of great social evenings under the Archduke Charles Ferdinand of Austria and his wife, Anne de Medici, in 1652, and through them the palace has come into the possession of the present owners through marriage. It was here that Richard Wagner died in 1882. The desk at which he wrote "Tristan and Isolde" is carefully preserved. Some years ago a plaque was affixed to the palace showing its connection with the great composer.

GOTHAM HALTED BY NEWS OF BIG SHIP DISASTER

lie, and those who make the statement know they lie. We did not admit the Titanic was sunk until we were absolutely assured that it was a fact. We are now doing all we can to find out who were saved and who were lost.

Captain Goes Down

It was accepted everywhere from the start that Captain E. J. Smith, admiral of the White Star line, went down with his ship. For forty years he had been a navigator and for more than twenty a master of ocean ships. His first accident came last fall when, as master of the Olympic, he was on the bridge when that sister ship of the Titanic was smashed by the British cruiser Hawke. Then at the outset of his work as commander of the Titanic he had encountered an accident when he just missed destroying the steamer New York by failing to shut off his engines when passing her berth at the Southampton docks.

His friends said there could be nothing for the veteran to live for after losing the Titanic. The very fact that he had failed to "sense" the icebergs would always be held against him and the men who knew him best said he would hardly have lived to come to port even though he had saved his passengers.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt, at first supposed to have been lost, cabled his relatives here that he did not sail.

London Aroused

LONDON, April 16.—A tearful, excited crowd stormed the London offices of the White Star line today, begging, pleading, demanding definite news of the hundreds lost when the huge liner Titanic sank in the icy seas off Cape Race.

London went to bed last night, secure in the belief that every passenger on the ill-fated vessel had been saved. The White Star officials, with an air of confidence, had smiled down all reports of loss of life. But London awoke to confront a terrible death list.

Nothing in the way of information was forthcoming from the offices of the steamship line, where officials, clerks and office boys, moved in a cloud of gloom about their routine work. Mechanically every now and then an official would step outside to the crowd and announce that there was no news. The crowd was excited. The police had difficulty holding them out of the offices.

Every steamship office, and all the shipping, lowered their flags to half mast today for the victims of the Titanic disaster.

BUTT'S DEATH CAUSE OF GLOOM

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Gloom prevailed in the White house today as hope went glimmering with the receipt of dispatches of the Titanic catastrophe.

President Taft, visibly touched, kept in communication with the White Star line officials in New York, endeavoring to get "just a word" concerning Major Archibald Butt, his military aide and companion, who, it is feared, was numbered among thousands who went to death in the sinking of the Titanic.

The tragedy of the Titanic was felt in the house and indirect reference was made to the horror by the Rev. Henry Couden, the blind chaplain of the house, in his prayer opening the session. The Rev. Mr. Couden prayed for more stringent laws for the protection of those whose work or travel exposed them to danger.

TO FORCE LIFE PROTECTION

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Congressional action to assure adequate life-saving facilities on ocean liners may be expected as a result of the Titanic disaster, according to Chairman Alexander (Dem., Mo.), chairman of the merchant marine and fisheries committee.

FOREIGN MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 16.—The news of the disaster to the Titanic had a depressing influence on market sentiment but its effect was lessened to some extent by the fact that in the late trading yesterday pronounced strength was shown. Mercantile Marine common fell a point. The Copper and Railroad stocks were strong.

11 a. m.—Although the feeling of dense depression continued and almost completely checked operation by the speculative element a strong tone was displayed in all the leading issues and a majority of price changes took the shape of fractional gains. Further concessions, however, were recorded in Mercantile Marine issues.

Governments unchanged; other bonds firm.

Noon.—The Titanic disaster, in addition to its depressing sentimental influence was used in the last half of the forenoon as the basis for disquieting rumors. These rumors caused some hurried selling, on which prices declined a point or more. The rumors, however, met with denial, and after midday a steadier tone prevailed.

2 p. m.—Pronounced heaviness was shown in the afternoon trading and under moderate pressure prices of many stocks receded two points or more from the high range of the late forenoon. The speculative element paid more attention to the Titanic disaster than it did to the trading.

The stock market closed firm.

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, April 16.—The wheat trade was demoralized today. An effort was made to force the market to take cognizance of the bearish cable reports, but traders gave attention only to the continuing reports of heavy crop damage in this country. While many traders indicated their belief that the market would react after the sensational advances of the past week, the majority seemed to expect further increases on crop reports.

Corn futures opened stronger but there was a severe bear attack upon the market combined with extensive profit-taking following the long up-pull. Reports declare that several bull leaders are secretly disposing of their holdings, while continuing ostensibly to purchase.

There was a heavy trade in oats and on big selling orders the market declined shortly after the opening. Renewed buying later sent prices above the opening which was fractionally below yesterday's prices.

Trade in provisions was small and narrow. There was nothing of significance in this market.

TILLMAN HAS NEW ROAD TO HEALTH

South Carolina Senator Figures Out New System to Regain His Lost Health

WASHINGTON, April 16.—One year ago Senator Ben Tillman went to his South Carolina home a complete physical wreck. His colleagues here never believed it would be possible for the shades of the "Pitchfork Ben" that was, to regain his health.

But at the beginning of the present session, the picturesque South Carolinian appeared once more in his seat in the senate. Moreover, he looked well. His friends were astonished at his recovery, for everybody thought Tillman was near death.

"Physical culture and deep breathing were taken together because it is necessary to count the movements of the muscles and nerves and also to count them while holding the breath. I find it better to take and easier, the breathing exercise in a horizontal position rather than when standing," explained Tillman.

Here are some of the "stunts" which the senator recommends for those anxious to regain their health: "Before arising in the morning take the head off the pillow and stretch out, exhaling all the air out of the lungs and then draw in all the air possible.

"Draw up the knees with the heels on the bed. Throw the knees as far apart as they can be carried, swinging them apart and together vigorously so as to strain the muscles of the thigh.

"Throw one foot and then the other toward the headboard, vigorously kicking it if you can. Kick upward with both feet and throw the feet apart as you kick as wide as you can and as vigorously as you can.

"Stretch your hands under you behind the spine, and then throw both feet toward the headboard, also using the abdominal muscles to pull up the lower extremities, five or six times, or as much as can be done with one breath. I have reduced my paunch three inches by doing this, as it changes fat to muscle and hardens the abdominal muscles.

"Grasp the iron cross at the head of the cot, if you use a cot as I do, and throw both feet up, pulling up the body and standing as near on the head as possible. Throw the feet up and down five or six times. Fasten the feet under the crosspiece of the cot, pull the trunk up to a sitting posture, and drop back. Repeat four or five times. The first time I tried this latter exercise," the senator interjected, "I thought I had torn loose something, but it was only the sudden strain of the abdominal muscles, which were very flabby and weak, and afterwards I found no pain at all.

"Keeping the knees straightened, try to pinch each big toe with each hand.

"Throw the head back as far as possible, then stoop forward and touch the floor if you can. This movement is to loosen the muscles of the spine like working a rusty hinge.

"Swing light dumb bells, one arm going by the belly while the other extends above the head as far as possible, as one goes down elevate the other. This will lubricate the joints of the shoulders.

"Twist the spine by throwing one hand to the rear and the other to the front. This is to loosen the spinal column and make the vertebra twist on the other.

"I practice all this before breakfast and at night before going to bed and I feel that it makes marked differences in my strength and otherwise. I have said that I thought my health would come back to me through this exercise and diet, if at all."

BARABOO WOMAN MISSING FROM HOME

BARABOO, Wis., April 16.—Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, wife of a railroad engineer, left her bed some time during Saturday night and disappeared. The entire neighborhood has been aroused but no trace secured. It is feared that through illness the woman's mind became unbalanced and that she jumped in the Baraboo river.

PECULIAR PRAYER TO COURT

Error of Stenographer Responsible for a Few More Gray Hairs in Head of Lawyer.

"They say that a lawyer has been saved by his stenographer," said an attorney, at a recent lecture. "That is true, undoubtedly, because a lawyer's stenographer, who is observing, gets many points of law out of her work."

"But there is another side to it that must not be overlooked, and that is the mistakes that a lawyer's stenographer makes. The law terms are so technical that it is not within reason to expect the stenographer to get everything exactly right.

"One of the most amusing errors that I have ever heard of in connection with stenographic errors, if I may call it that, occurred in a certain law office the other day. The case was a divorce action, in which the plaintiff alleged cruel and inhuman treatment."

"Plaintiff, being a woman with all the common law disabilities, prayed the court for temporary alimony and suit money. The prayer was dictated to the stenographer and she wrote it out and mailed it to the court.

"Shortly afterward, the lawyer chanced to read a copy and found to his horror that the stenographer had made the prayer one for alimony and soup money."

HAPPY, LAUGHING CHILD SHORTLY

If cross, feverish, bilious and sick let "Syrup of Figs" clean its little waste-clogged bowels

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative physic should always be the first treatment given.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with foul, constipated waste matter and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated; give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious fig taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grownups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggists for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 16.—There will be a partial eclipse of the sun Wednesday, according to Prof. Francis P. Leavenworth, astronomer at the University of Minnesota. The eclipse will occur at sunrise when the moon will cut off sight of a small portion of the sun. Observations will be made at the university.

PRACTICAL GIFT FOR BEGGAR

Stranger May Have Meant Well, but His Kindness Was Not in the Least Appreciated.

After suffering excruciating tortures for six months from doubling up a perfectly sound leg to fit on a wooden stump the crutch-bearing beggar finally succeeded in eliciting sympathy from a passerby. With kindly eyes the stranger eyed the cripple from top to toe.

"You seem to be in a pretty bad way," he said.

"Yes, sir," whined the cripple. "Couldn't be much worse."

"Too bad," said the sympathizer. "I must see if something can't be done for you."

Hope beat strongly in the beggar's breast and he murmured "God bless you," with unusual fervor.

Two days later the sympathizer appeared again and ostentatiously presented the cripple with the materialization of his benevolent intentions. He gave him a new crutch.

Don't look for a needle in a haystack if you want to patch up a quarrel. There will be no occasion for the patch by the time you find the needle.

SILVER PLATE FAILS TO CORRECT MORALS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—Arthur Kistenmach, 19 years old, will undergo a second moral surgery operation in an effort to effect his reform if a detailed examination to be made by Dr. A. F. Young substantiates one made in Municipal court Monday morning. Kistenmacher is charged with assaulting John Bachner, an Eighth street saloon keeper, on March 4, by hitting him over the head with a bowling pin. The youth, it is said, recently had a plate inserted over his skull in an effort to make him physically and morally perfect.

Almost a Miracle

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Hoislaw, Clarendon, Texas, was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for Coughs and Colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at O. T. Erhart's.

True Nobleness.

To love the unlovely, to sympathize with the contrary-minded, to give to the uncharitable, to forgive such as never pity, to be just to men who make inquiry a law, to repay their ceaseless hate with never-ceasing love, is one of the noblest attainments of man, and in this he becomes most divine.—Theodore Parker.

URGES FEDERAL MEDIATION BOARD

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A federal board of mediation and conciliation will be named to arbitrate individual disputes in all branches of business if suggestions made to the house commerce committee yesterday by Presiding Judge Knapp of the commerce court and Labor Commissioner Neill are followed.

The committee is considering extension of the mediation feature of the Erdman act to this end.

Neill and Knapp, who acted as arbiters under the Erdman law insisted that their duties were too burdensome to be properly fulfilled and recommended if the law is extended that other officials be designated.

IOWA SALOONS ARE RAPIDLY DECREASING

WATERLOO, Iowa, April 16.—Iowa's saloons have lessened in number from 3,008 in 1905 to 729 at the present time, according to the figures of W. R. Jameson, treasurer of the Waterloo Business Men's Temperance association. Mr. Jameson's figures are reliable, as they have been gathered from each separate county by Mr. Jameson over a long period of time.

TAFT ASKS BIG FLOOD RELIEF FUND

WASHINGTON, April 16.—An immediate emergency appropriation of $787,897, to meet expenses already incurred in the Mississippi flood relief and to pay for future work of the same character was asked in a special message sent to congress this afternoon by President Taft. The message asked for $300,000 to supplement the $350,000 already appropriated for protection of levees $275,000 for tents, renting buildings for refugees, feed for stock, and transportation of victims and $212,897 for food. The message declared that the crest of the flood is now reaching the lower portion where even greater damages may be expected.

WHAT A TONIC SHOULD DO

Increase the Strength and Give Vigor to the System.

Webster's dictionary defines a tonic as a medicine that increases the strength and gives vigor to the system. That tells why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a real tonic. Thousands of men and women are ailing today, not sick in bed but without strength and ambition to do a full day's work. No one organ seems to be at fault yet the whole system is lacking in health. They cannot sleep or get rest, are always tired out or nervous. Many have headaches, backaches and stomach trouble. All such people need the tonic help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The beneficial influence of this medicine reaches the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do more than relieve one or two of the symptoms, they remove the cause.

The experience of Mrs. James F. Meynell, of Sullivan, Mo., with this blood-making tonic is given in her own words, as follows: "My reason for recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to others is that they saved me from a long illness and probably from consumption a few years ago. When teaching a country school I became so completely run down that I could not attend to my duties. My appetite failed me and I became so weak that it was with great difficulty that I could walk upstairs. I had palpitation of the heart and was short of breath. I also lost in weight. The people with whom I boarded recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I gave the remedy a trial and soon felt my strength returning. In a very short time I was perfectly well. More recently I again took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had been suffering from rheumatism for several months. The disease settled in the joints all over my body. I could just get around the house by the aid of a chair. The pains were so sharp that I could hardly keep from screaming. I suffered all through the summer until early fall. As the doctor did not help me I again turned to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I gradually got better and took the pills until cured and have had no return of the rheumatism since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

"I don't believe any man is really good," she said. "When you find one who doesn't go wrong it is because he is afraid."

STEP TO INTERVENE

MEXICO PRESS REGARDS W. S. NOTE TO MADERO AS FIRST WARNING OF AMERICAN INTERVENTION

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—Both Spanish and English papers in Mexico City today treat the strong note sent by the United States government to Madero last night as the first step toward intervention. The delivery of the note, warning Madero and Orozco alike that Mexico would be held responsible for the loss of American property and life, is taken as meaning that the United States may soon deem it necessary to concentrate troops on the border to be prepared for immediate fighting.

The developments of about twenty-four hours caused the greatest uneasiness among Americans here and foreigners are again concentrating to protect themselves in case of an outbreak. The excitement was increased by a report that 400 rebels were only 19 miles from the capital. A battle is raging today at Huixtla, only 30 miles from Mexico City.

The government today issued a statement declaring that federals under General Villa had defeated the rebels under General Campa and Salazar near Parral, killing 400.

Truly a "Nervy" Youth.

A New York barber says he has discovered the nerviest man alive. He is young yet, but when he is fully developed with a mature growth of nerve he will be a startling prodigy.

"This fellow came into my shop the other day," said the barber, "and asked me to shave his neck. I speedily accomplished the gentle task, and called out, 'Next.' While I was adjusting a towel around the neck of the next customer I saw the other youth going out the door.

"Haven't you forgotten something?" I asked him.

"He felt in his pockets and said he had all that belonged to him.

"I mean you forgot to pay me for that shave."

"Pay for that! Just shaving my neck!" he said, with astonishment. "I never heard of paying for so little a thing as that. I could have done it myself with my safety razor, only I couldn't reach back there."

Franks of Nature.

Some naturalists who have been to the antarctic and the higher regions of the Alps, have noticed flies without wings—flies that look more like ants. Wondering whether cold had anything to do with this wingless condition, they took wasps, just hatched, and kept them in an icebox for 48 hours. Result: Wingless wasps. They tried the same experiment with several other kinds of insects and always with the same result.

Busy Chinese Hens.

It would appear that the hens of China find life more real and earnest than enjoyable, for, it is said, when not hatching out broods of their own kind, the additional and novel task of hatching fish eggs is thrust upon them. Chinese owners of hens collect fish spawn, introduce it into empty eggshells, hermetically seal them and place them under the deceived and conscientious hen. In due time the shells are removed and the spawn, now warmed into life, is emptied into a shallow pool. Here the fish which appear are nursed and guarded until strong enough to be turned into a lake or stream, and subsequently add to the edible resources of the people.

NORMAL BUCKLES DOWN TO WORK

Students Back from Eastern Vacation Prepared to Put in Ten Busy Weeks

The last quarter of the school year at the state normal school began today with the students back from an eleven day Easter vacation. Yesterday and Sunday trains on all the roads brought in hundreds of aspiring teachers and college course students and the institution is once more a scene of activity. During the vacation about a dozen men of the school have been employed putting in new seat standards and in cleaning up the building. Everything is in shape for a very eventful ten weeks which will conclude the program for the year.

Athletics will claim a great deal of the spare time of the male population of the school as all the track and field apparatus has arrived and systematic work in track and field events started today under the direction of Coach J. R. Moore. The new baseball uniforms were fitted today onto the likeliest candidates for the team and a very snappy appearance is the result. The field is in fair condition but is still pretty wet owing to the recent rains. However, fast practice is being held on adjacent fields and the normal is sure of having one of the fastest amateur teams in this section of the state this year.

Saturday a game will be played with Sacred Heart college at Prairie du Chien and Coach Moore is sparing no effort in whipping the men into shape for the contest which is certain to be a fast one. On Friday evening the two normal debating teams will meet their opponents in the triangular debating league. The Websterian society representatives will meet the Milwaukee team here and the men from the Eclectic club will clash with the Platteville team at Platteville. "The Magistrate" by Pineroy will soon be staged by the Buskin Dramatic club under the direction of Prof. Coate of the English department.

HUMAN BONES FOUND

CELLAR OF HAUNTED HOUSE IS FOUND TO CONTAIN BONES OF SEVERAL YOUNG WOMEN

CHICAGO, April 16.—Detectives yesterday dug up the ground in the cellar of a negro tenement house at 3155 Groveland avenue following the discovery of a number of human bones in a basket in the basement Sunday night. The coroner's physician stated that the bones found by Mrs. Emma Davis, a negroess living in the building, came from the bodies of three young women. There were twenty bones in the basket. Several were also found on the ground scattered under the rubbish that littered the place. The building was formerly occupied by white persons and the police are investigating all of the families that have lived there for several years. Physicians who examined the find at first believed the bones had been left there by medical students, but traces of quicklime on several led to the theory that whoever placed the parts of the skeletons there sought to destroy them. The house has for years been pointed out by negroes in the vicinity as the "Haunted Castle."

RUSHFORD, MINN.

Carl Foss, Carl Berg and W. W. Webster were La Crosse visitors last week.

Mr. O. L. Olness of Arendahl, was in this city on business last Wednesday.

Two horse buyers were here last week and succeeded in purchasing a number of fine animals. One horse, sold by James Boyington, was an exceptionally fine one, and brought Mr. Boyington the neat sum of $225.

Rev. J. C. Bantly of Kasson spoke to a large congregation at the Rushford Presbyterian church last Sunday, April 14th, and also preached at Fremont in the afternoon. Mr. Bantly comes as a candidate for the permanent filling of the pulpits in the two churches and is a most able speaker.

Two gentlemen from Lewiston, Oscar Launders and Ed Pflugrad, were business visitors in Rushford last week.

We understand that Carl Smaby, who at one time was an assistant on the Star-Republican staff while Mr. Foss was editor, and who has edited the Peterson Herald for some years, has been employed by James Parish to help in editing the Star again. Mr. Parish has bought a half interest in the Star and Mr. T. Parish is lately of Houston, but has leased the former Thomas Layne residence property in North Rushford, but now owned by Rev. Jaastad of Rushford.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church met last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brumer north of this city. Miss Rae Johnson led the devotional exercises, business was discussed and afterwards a bountiful lunch was served. Owing to the unpleasant weather the attendance was smaller than is usually the case at the meetings.

Mr. Kenneth McLeod has purchased the Christian Paulson farm east of this city. Mr. McLeod has been leasing the land for about two years, but decided to become owner when the property was for sale. The farm consists of 120 acres, 80 acres being in Fillmore county and forty acres in Houston county.

Another town has decided that a no-license vote was a good thing for the place, Chatfield going no-license by a larger majority of votes than even Rushford at the last election, 48 votes giving the preference in Chatfield.

Mrs. Phil Miller had with her for Easter, her son, John, who is attending school in another city.

Charles Nichols, proprietor of the Elite Theater, has installed electric fans at the theater, giving its patrons perfect comfort in warm weather, while the moving pictures are in progress or the numerous dances as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Johnson are the happy parents of a baby girl, who arrived on the Stork Special last Thursday.

The W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting last Saturday afternoon at the Bible Institute, a large number being in attendance and an excellent program being rendered.

Hon. S. G. Iverson, a former Rushford gentleman and now state auditor of Minnesota, has remembered our public library in a most substantial manner by sending it over fifty volumes upon various subjects, with which to replenish its shelves. Our library is a live factor in the city and we earnestly hope that it will not be forced to close because of lack of funds with which to carry on the work. There are a few upon whom we can always depend to help out, but it should be the pride of each and every citizen to help sustain the good which which the library has set in motion. Part of the fifty volumes are made up of a complete set of Cooper's works.

James McDonald of the South Side has resigned his position as manager of the feed mill there, which position he has held for five and one-half years. By his courteous and honest methods of dealing and by strict attention to business, Mr. McDonald has brought the business up from a very small beginning to a volume which is a problem, at some times, to take care of any many will regret his leaving the position.

Miss Maggie Dean, who is a student of the Rushford city schools, spent Easter vacation at Money Creek the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. D. Randall.

Hans Rud who bought the Mills' property on Mill street several years ago and has since made it his home, has gone to Montana and the property has been leased by Richard Crotty, who has taken possession.

Ed. Fenstermacher and family have leased rooms in the upper portion of the Elite Theater and took possession Monday.

Great Annual April Sale

EMBROIDERIES

For women who like the beautiful, here's a sale event worthy of your keenest consideration. Embroideries, the newest, the most exquisite, the handsomest patterns and designs that left the looms this season. With fashion favoring embroideries, for lingerie, dresses and their lavish use for underwear trimmings, together with such extreme values, make this sale the most important of the year. This great annual April event needs no introduction or word to the women of La Crosse who have ever visited it. It simply means thousands of yards of the world's best and newest creations, in dainty set coverings, flouncings, edges and insertions, etc., not loom strips, odds and ends, or discards, but all of quality finest of the finest, in all widths, designs and patterns.

HIGHS WILL HAVE GOOD TRACK TEAM

Many Men Practicing Daily for Meets in which the Locals Are to Participate

The high school campus is literally alive with baseball and track men. Never before in the history of the school have there been so many candidates out for track and field work. There are about sixty aspirants out for the different events that go to make up a field meet. Out of this horde of athletes an excellent track team can be picked and the work from now on will be devoted to the development of these men who are to take part in the five meets that are scheduled for this season.

The first meet of the season will be held on May 2 and will be for the high school classes. This meet is to get the men who have any ability as track athletes out and to give those who have been out a chance to show what they can do.

On May 4 the city meet will be held. The normal, Y. M. C. A., W. B. U. and the high school participate in this meet and it promises to be interesting as many of the track men from these schools are already training for this event. The Beloit college meet is also held on this date and the high school has been invited but will not attend on account of the great expense to take a team down there.

The big meet of the season, which is the interstate invitational meet, will be held on May 11. This is, with the exception of the meet held by the university, the biggest meet in the state. Such teams as those from Madison, Menomonie and Chippewa Falls will be represented at this meet.

The tryout meet for qualification to attend the state meet held at Madison on May 25 will be held on May 18. The interscholastic meet held at Madison on May 25 is the big meet of the year for the high schools of the state and is the one that all these minor meets are used to prepare for.

The prospects for a first class track team at the high school are excellent as every one who has any athletic ability is out every night training. Harry Worth and Arthur Dornbach are doing some sensational work in the high jump, while there are a number of other men who are also doing well in this event. Otto Enders, Theodore Garder and Bell are doing first class work in the pole vault and Krause who holds the city grade school record in this event is doing a little limbering up between baseball practice.

Among the men who are out for the long distance runs Track Captain Strum, Alva Hill and Kenneth Dickens are showing up well. Krause is also a long distance man and he is expected to take up this work soon to be in condition by the time the meets are held.

There is a large squad of men for the sprints, among them being Ross Harris, Forest Clowe, Rassmussen and Merman. Schwalbe, Dornbach and Gates are out for the hurdles, Chamberlain, Casberg and Taylor are ably taking care of the weight department. The same men who are trying for the high jump are also trying for the running broad jump and they have Krause among them. There is also a large number of men who are new at track work who are out to see what they can do and some good men are among them who will develop into good track men.
